

ELECTION INTEGRITY BULLETIN

Help us defeat the liberal cabal threatening our elections

CRU ALERT: The "Blue Coup" is horrifying and real; we must be ready

Fearful of a sweeping liberal election loss in November, the left and its political allies are trying to set up conservatives in a scheme to delegitimize "red" results. These two articles are frightening just by themselves, and more powerful together as they explain the "blue coup" and how the nation needs to be ready for a liberal overthrow of election results. Please read, be informed, be ready.

ACRU's Blackwell calls for protecting elderly votes

"The liberal push for unsolicited Vote By Mail and legalizing ballot harvesting combines the worst threats to vote integrity and puts seniors' votes at particular risk. If you live in a senior residence and need assistance, only trust a family member to help you vote, mail your ballot yourself, and never trust a stranger - even a staff member — with your precious ballot."

Member and Former Ohio Secretary of State*

ACRU's Roman encourages every voter to be a "VIP"

"There is only one way to be 100% certain your vote is counted and your individual political choice is documented at the ballot box, and that is to Vote In Person. Although COVID restrictions are being eased in most states, we encourage you to use all precautions required by local election officials and go to the polls."

Lori Roman, President of ACRU

ACRU's Toloczko to military members and spouses: vote TODAY!

"In 1856, Abraham Lincoln noted, 'the ballot is stronger than the bullet.'" Friday, September 18th is the last day states are required by law to provide absentee ballots to Armed Forces members and spouses. In the last presidential election, 20,000 military votes were rejected for being late. Don't let that be yours in 2020. Sign up now - it's easy!"

AROUND THE NATION

The fraud we don't see is the most dangerous of all

Using conjured COVID "emergency powers," liberal NJ Governor Tim Murphy signed an executive order changing his state's method of voting. Every voter on the voting rolls in NJ will now receive an unrequested mail-in ballot. If a voter wishes to vote in person and leaves their unrequested ballot at home, the ballot they are given at the polling location for the in-person voting will be considered "provisional." A GOP lawsuit says the governor does not have this power. We agree. The notion that an in-person ballot is "provisional" is unconscionable.

IN THE STATES

NEW JERSEY

Garden State election forecast: cold, with a high chance of fraud

Using conjured COVID “emergency powers,” liberal NJ Governor Tim Murphy signed an executive order changing his state’s method of voting. Every address in NJ will now receive an unrequested mail-in ballot. If you want to vote in person and leave your unrequested ballot at home, the one they give you will be “provisional.” A GOP lawsuit says he does not have this power. We agree. If you are voting in New Jersey, hand walk the mailed ballot you didn’t ask for to the polls. The notion that an in-person ballot is "provisional" is unconscionable.

NORTH CAROLINA

North Carolina Governor invents photo ID crisis then tries to “fix” it

7.5 million North Carolina residents have drivers licenses. Half that number - 4.6 million North Carolinians - voted in 2016. The charge for a non-driver photo ID is $14 and is free to the homeless or disabled. Yet the liberal governor claims photo ID is disenfranchising. Perhaps it’s the state’s law requiring non-citizens to present legal residency proof (green card, etc.) for photo ID that is giving him angst, as two weeks ago 19 non-citizens in the state were charged with felony vote fraud.

Support Fair Voting

As COVID-19 has presented unique financial challenges to non-profit organizations such as ours, please consider a financial donation to support these critically important initiatives. We can’t do it without you!

COLORADO

Liberal state official and an Obama Judge to citizens: you are too dumb for bulk mail

The U.S. Postal Service sent a flyer to all American mailboxes wisely advising voters to check their state's ballot requirements (with a link) and encouraging them to prepare in advance for the election. This seems like a good idea since new liberal universal mail-in ballot schemes across the country are confusing. Colorado's Democrat Secretary of State and a liberal judge are suing over this postcard, in what can only be deemed a political stunt that is insulting to the state's voters and a waste of the taxpayer's money.

MASSACHUSETTS

Bay State liberals promote "Common Core" math for voters

That a Boston media outlet uses complaints from a losing congressional primary candidate as an endorsement of Ranked Choice Voting is perfect. RCV is a voting scheme that favors losers, many argue is un-Constitutional, and throws third-party candidates under the election bus. "Ranking" candidates is complicated, foolish and unnecessary. Liberal politicians have now put it on the state's ballot for November. Just say no. Stick with traditional voting where voters cast one vote for one candidate and the one with the most votes wins. Traditional math works.

FLORIDA

Mail-in voting becomes a campaign issue. Good.

Vinny Parlatore is the GOP candidate running for Florida House District 101 (South Broward) against Democrat Marie Johnson. What is interesting about this year's Sun Sentinel newspaper candidate questionnaire is the inclusion of "do you support widespread use of mail-in voting?" This is no longer just a voting issue, but a campaign issue. (A compare and contrast of the candidate's responses is also interesting.)

GEORGIA

Just one more pile of vote fraud cases liberals claim to be "rare"

The Georgia Secretary of State is investigating 1,000 cases of double voting in the state's summer primaries and another 100 potential cases going back a few years, including a mother using absentee ballots to "vote for" her two children incarcerated for felonies. We are a broken record, we know, but these are only a few of the cases we know about.
